PLC Update

Our staff is truly enjoying the time that we have been given each Friday to work as a "Professional Learning Community". The first few weeks of this school year have been spent laying the groundwork for the more involved "work" that we will do in the upcoming months and years.

During our first meeting we defined the term PLC, explaining in detail that we are making the paradigm shift from focusing on teaching to a focus on learning. We also spent time establishing meeting norms so that we can be efficient and productive during our one hour early release times. The second meeting this year was spent examining how our roles and responsibilities may shift as we begin working in collaborative teams. We did an activity called "Compass Points" so that we could determine various personalities strengths. Teachers chose whether they were a North, South, East or West...based on their personality. It was a fun activity and helped all of us to see that there are strengths in each category, and as we begin to work more closely together it will be important to know the strengths of our teammates.

Calling ALL Dads!

"Dads and Doughnuts" will be held on Wednesday, September 15. We encourage all Dads to come and eat a Krispy

Kreme doughnut with their child from 7:30—8:30 AM. During this time they will have the opportunity to sign up to be a WATCH D.O.G., where they can come to school with their child and provide a male presence in our school and help out as needed.
